

For more than 100 years, we've created smarter workplaces that solve customers' business issues. We bring together the best strategies, products and services that help people work more effectively, today and tomorrow.

When engineering firm Dynamix decided to renovate a promising space for their growing company, they chose to partner with LOTH, Inc. in Columbus for space planning, furniture specification, and finish selection.

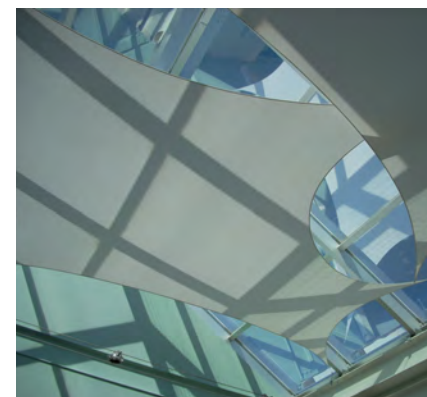

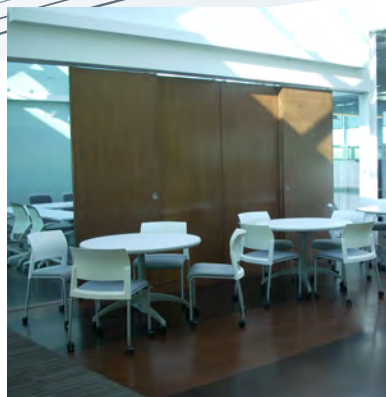

Challenge:

- understand and accomodate: create a custom solution for workstations to accommodate the employees' unique requirements
- sustainable solutions: required in Dynamix's quest for Gold LEED certification
- company concerns: company representatives concerned about effects on privacy and noise levels, as well as attracting new talent and retaining an incredible research team

Strategy:

- uncover trends: observe work patterns to uncover trends - what is needed to accomplish specific tasks
- determine collaboration needs: analyze how groups interact with other departments and what constitutes collaboration among teams
- maximize footprint: maximize a smaller real estate footprint

changes

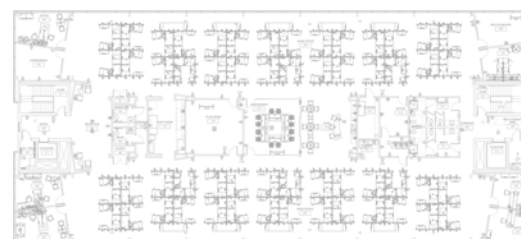

Solution:

- better workspaces and storage: created deep workspaces for layout space and rolled drawing storage
- user-friendly workstations: more workstations with user-friendly worktools
- better lighting: avoided using solid walls to increase use of natural light.
- utilized LOTH's service capabilities: for liquidation and move management

Result:

- positive response from employees and clients: a space that gains positive comments from employees and interest from clients
- collaborative interaction: environment supports collaborative interaction within an open-plan setting
- space maximized: maximizes a smaller real estate footprint
- an open environment that uses the natural light: the space has windows around the perimeter and skylights, reducing the need for blanket overhead lighting

“Your service has been top notch. From color assistance to listening and following through with solutions that meet our needs, your team has been great and we appreciate that. You have a very professional and friendly group of people.”
