Jason Lawler, former Steelcase Regional Manager, is the new Columbus President and a LOTH Partner as of May 30, 2017. Jason comes to LOTH with a wealth of industry experience including 19 years at Steelcase, an understanding of the Columbus marketplace and a working partnership history with LOTH.

“After years of working with Jason as our Steelcase partner, we are thrilled to have Jason now be part of the LOTH organization”, said JB Buse, LOTH Owner and CEO.

Jason began his involvement with LOTH in 2009, allowing a seamless integration into the LOTH organization. LOTH was recently named a 2017 Premier Partner with Steelcase, where Jason inspired a team of strategic account managers, business development managers, consultants and specialists in the Midwest region.

“I am excited about the possibilities and passionate about helping our customers unlock human potential by creating great work environments wherever work happens”, said Jason Lawler.
